Credit Risk Analysis Dashboard

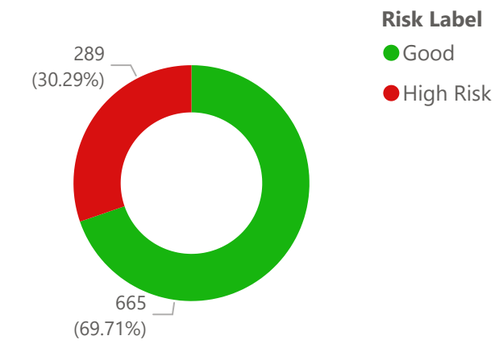
Total Customers	High Risk Customers	High Risk %	Avg Credit Amount
954	289	30.29%	$3.28K

Age: All

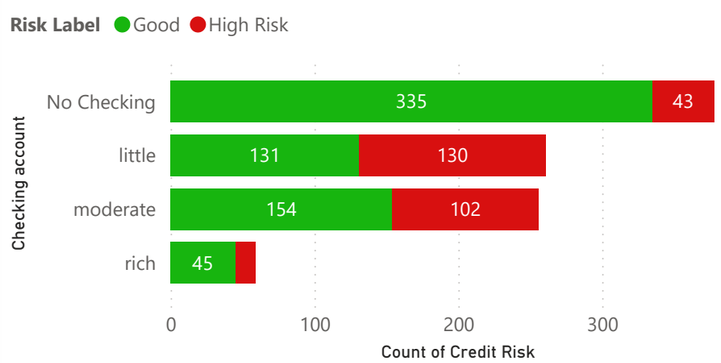
Housing: All

Purpose: All

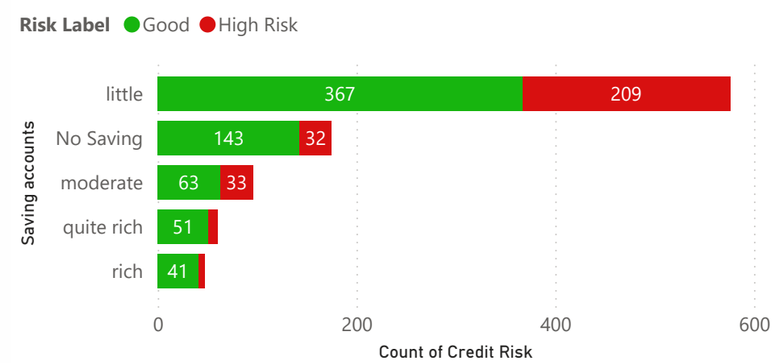
Overall Risk Distribution



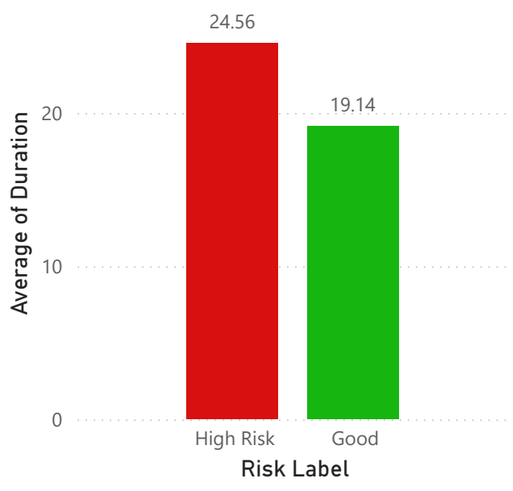
Risk Distribution by Checking Accounts



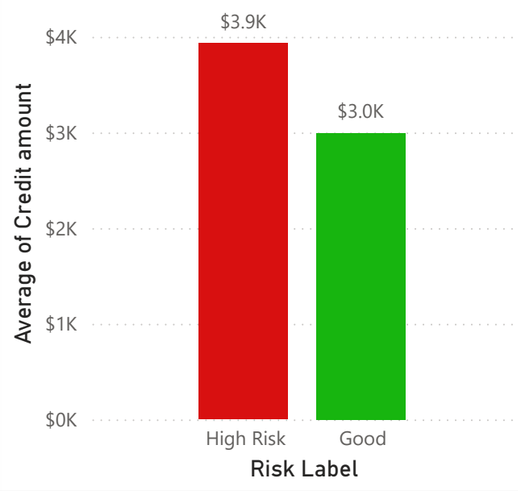
Risk Distribution by Saving Accounts



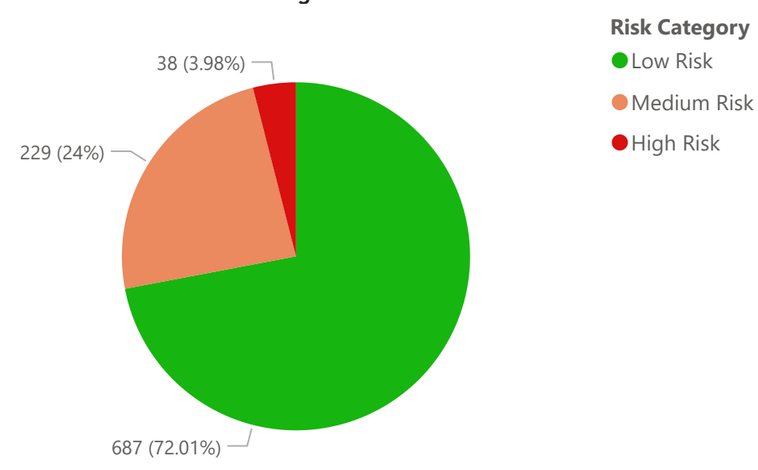
Average Loan Duration by Risk



Average Credit Amount by Risk



Derived Customer Risk Segmentation



Key Risk Insights

- Customers with low checking and saving account balances show the highest delinquency rates, indicating limited liquidity.
- Higher credit amounts and longer loan durations are strongly associated with increased default risk.
- Individuals with lower financial reserves but higher borrowing exposure are significantly more vulnerable to delinquency.
- Demographic factors such as age and job level have relatively lower impact compared to financial behavior indicators..

Dataset: German Credit Data | Analysis by Abhinandan Sonne

Avg of Duration	Avg Credit Amount
20.78	$3.28K

Risk Category	Count of Risk Label
High Risk	38
Low Risk	687
Medium Risk	229
Total	954